

PUDA bags award for mobile app

Mohali: The "mpuda" mobile application of the Punjab Urban Planning and Development Authority (PUDA) has been awarded the SKOCH Order-of-Merit Award for qualifying among the top 50 smart cities projects in the country. PUDA had developed "mpuda" to facilitate common citizens access property details, said Additional Chief Secretary, Housing and Urban Development, Vini Mahajan on Friday. TNS

M-PUDA app bags Skotch award

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Mohali: M-PUDA, a mobile application has been developed by PUDA/GMADA to facilitate common citizens in accessing property details.

The application launched by Punjab chief minister and PUDA chairman Captain Amarinder Singh was selected for SKOCH Order-of-Merit award which was presented to PUDA general manager (IT) Parmod Kalia by SKOCH chairman Samir Kochhar recently at a function held at Constitution Club of India, New Delhi.

This mobile application has been designed on a modular concept which comprises the modules including property module, RTI-grievances-single window, central diary, department login and feedback/location depicting image, longitude and latitude based complaint. The mobile application is available on Play Stores as well as on App Store (IOS).

The mobile application would facilitate user easy access to the property details, ledger in a transparent and hassle-free manner. There will be a grievance redressal system to ensure that the user grievances are attended in an efficient and effective manner.
